Indigenous Rights in Forest Management

Who should attend?

Practitioners interested in how the consideration of Indigenous rights is involved various aspects of forest management.

What topics will be covered?

A diverse lineup of speakers from Indigenous communities, industry, government and Legal sectors will share their perspectives in areas like:

- What are the current legal and policy requirements for Indigenous consultation and engagement in Alberta?
- How are others approaching Indigenous engagement in forest management?
- Are there any legislative or policy changes forthcoming that may impact how indigenous engagement occurs?
